See No Present Settlement of Milk Strike

Convoyed Trucks Brought Through Antioch, Bound for Chicago

Chances of an early settlement of Chicago's five-day milk strike today appeared slim as fresh violence broke out in Chicago and along the important highways leading to the city. Picketing along the roads resulted in near riots at several points and more than 23,000 pounds of milk were reported dumped since midnight.

At McHenry, state deputy fire marshals were investigating the mysterious burning of the McHenry Dairy plant last night.

Eight trucks were convoyed through Antioch Wednesday evening at 9:30 o'clock by Illinois state highway police cars, with a score of passenger cars following.

Tuesday noon eight trucks came through Antioch over Highway 173, via Lake street.

Would Stop Supply

It has been the endeavor of the striking Chicago milk drivers to prevent milk from reaching Chicago. During the strike, dairies located in that city have been selling it at the plants or distributing it through stores.

The drivers want a continuance of their union contracts with the dairy companies for wages of $48 per week and commission, while the dairies want to have the wages reduced. Offers of $30 a week have been made by the dairies, some raising the ante to $40. The strike has not affected the Antioch dairy, since its milk supply goes to hospitals and other institutions which have been exempted.

Antioch Girls Win Awards In Contests

First place in her division in a national personality contest held at Northwestern university Friday was won by Miss Mildred Van Patten, a student in the commercial department at Antioch High school.

Eleven states were represented among the 300 girls taking part.

Miss Lois Binner, also an Antioch High school student, took third place in a national typing contest held in connection with the personality event. Miss Binner was awarded a silver pin as a prize.

Antioch Rescue Truck Will Have Specially Designed Panel Body

A panel body specially designed for first aid and rescue work is to be fitted to the Antioch rescue squad's new truck by the Peter Pirsch fire equipment company of Kenosha.

The fitting of the body and the installation of equipment will be made within the next week or two so as to have the truck in readiness for use in the lakes region with the start of the summer season, shortly after Memorial day.

Funds totaling $887.50 have been donated by residents of the lakes area, interested business concerns and numerous fraternal and community organizations for the purchase of a truck and for equipment.

Antioch Firemen Sponsor Old-Fashioned Barn Dance

Gathering this evening for an "old-fashioned barn dance" are members of the Antioch Fire department and their friends. The dance is being held in the Antioch Milling company's new warehouse north of the Soo Line depot, through the courtesy of the company.

Dancing will be from 8:30 p. m. to 1:30 p. m., with music by the "Aristocrats of Rhythm" orchestra.

Proceeds will go to the fund for entertaining the annual convention of Lake county firemen here June 24.

Fox Lake Firemen and Auxiliary Study First Aid

Fifteen members of the Fox Lake volunteer fire department are now studying the Red Cross standard first aid course, preparatory to forming an emergency squad.

Their efforts are seconded by the fire department ladies' auxiliary, several members of which have completed both the standard and advanced courses.

The women's work is expected to be especially helpful in emergencies when it is undesirable to call firemen from duty at night.

A second women's class is now being formed.

Start Drive on Village Vehicle License Tags

Antioch automobile and truck drivers are being requested by the village board to secure their village vehicle license tags within the next few days.

The tags, payment on which was due May 1, are available at the office of the village clerk, Roy L. Murrie.

A charge of $2.50 is made for automobiles or trucks that come under the Illinois state "A" and "B" classifications. Trucks that come under the "C" or higher letter classifications have a vehicle tag charge of $4.00.

Poppy Chairman Explains Meaning of Observance

"When you see a poppy worn this year, remember what it means—a tribute to the memory of the dead and a service to the unfortunate living."

Mrs. W. W. Ward, poppy chairman of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary, reminds the public in announcing plans for Poppy Day here Saturday, May 25. On that day, committees from the Legion Auxiliary will sell poppies on the streets of the village. The poppies are made by disabled veterans in Illinois hospitals. Proceeds will go to service and relief funds of the Illinois state Legion and the local post.

"More than 68,000 members of the American Expeditionary forces are still spending long, tedious days in government hospitals," Mrs. Ward points out. "The dimes, quarters and dollars which are dropped into the coin boxes on Poppy Day go to help these men and to help their families and the families of the dead."

"Sequoia" Copies Are Distributed at H. S.

The Antioch High school annual, "Sequoia," is being distributed at the school this afternoon. The 48-page volume, bound in simulated white grained leather, features a "medieval castle" motif on the cover and on division pages.

Published by the Class of 1941, it is dedicated to Marguerite K. Phillips, drama instructor. A special memorial page is dedicated to Bessie Elmer Leng, Antioch High school student who died in an automobile accident during the past year. Pages devoted to faculty, students, sports and other extra curricular activities follow.

Headings in antique style type help to carry out the "medieval" theme of the book. Joyce Anderson and Roberta Selzer were co-editors. The volume was printed by the Antioch News.

The "More Abundant Life"

So often have the New Dealers told us that they are for the "more abundant life," that we regard the phrase as a mere meaningless cliché. Yet we should not. They have done much to provide a "more abundant life" for certain persons, as is demonstrated by the hearings of the House Committee Investigating W. P. A., just made public.

Of course we knew that the entire Roosevelt family—including all the children and in-laws—have enjoyed a "more abundant life" during the last seven years. Likewise we have known that many of the New Dealers in this period have enjoyed a more abundant life than ever before.

But until the publication of the hearings in the W. P. A. investigation we did not know that money appropriated by Congress for the relief of unfortunate persons in distress was going to build yacht basins and golf courses for persons in comfortable circumstances. Nor were we aware of the "abundant life" being led by the Deputy Commissioner of the W. P. A., Howard O. Hunter.

Contained in the W. P. A. Hearings just made public is a 90-page summary of findings made by the House Investigating Committee's agents in a number of States. We shall quote, verbatim, a few excerpts from that summary.

Poor Yachtsmen on Relief

Under the heading "Municipal Yacht Basin Sponsored by the City of New Orleans," the report states W. P. A. expended $93,097 on this project and adds: "The chief beneficiary of this project will be the Southern Yacht Club and a part of the work is to be done on the property owned by the Southern Yacht Club, a private corporation. The work comprehended the building of lockers and boat slips, etc., on the property of the Southern Yacht Club."

Under the heading "Golf Course and Club House at Mandeville, Louisiana, sponsored by the State of Louisiana," the report gives the cost of the project to W. P. A. as $122,243 and adds that the work comprised "development of a Golf Course on State-owned property . . . including clearing and grubbing approximately 50 acres, grading, fertilizing and sodding fairways, tees, greens and traps (approximately 335,000 square yards) and the building of a clubhouse."

"This project is some 57 miles from New Orleans and in effect serves only as a private club to a few prominent citizens who have large estates adjacent thereto," the report asserted, adding: "Work on the project has been discontinued but over $100,000 has been expended on it."

Brass Hats Ate Avocados

Turning to the State of Washington, the House Investigators found that a "household demonstrating project" in Seattle, which contemplates training girls in household work, purchased its food from one of the most exclusive and expensive grocery stores in the city. A sample page of a food order contained such items as "almonds in shell," "asparagus, frozen" and "avocados." But let it not be supposed that those on relief received such high-class rich food, for the report states that from March 2, 1938 to March 30, 1939 "a total of 1,049 guests were served meals at no cost to the guests" and "these guests were high Government officials, W. P. A. officials, local politicians and civic leaders and their wives."

Down at Spokane, Washington, the investigators found that a "stone wall and stone posts were built (by W. P. A. labor) on property of the Country Club golf course, a private club." The report added: "W. P. A. officials admit that the wall is on the roadway of the club and is of no benefit to the public."

One item in the report on W. P. A. operations in Pennsylvania had to do with a highway beautification project said to cost $400,000 undertaken on property owned by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. Another paragraph in the report on Pennsylvania read:

"Retaining walls were built, roads constructed, buildings moved and improved, and dams built on private property as well as on private property owned by W. P. A. officials. It is likewise shown that roads were built which would peculiarly benefit certain individuals. It is impossible to give exact costs of these various items for the reason that they are included under official projects and were accomplished out of funds and with labor assigned to official projects."

Race Track Built in California

Out in California the investigators found that "W. P. A. expended the sum total of $521,047 on the construction of a race track at Del Mar, California." The report added that "W. P. A. officials admitted there was no justification for these projects for the reason that all but one of the twenty-one buildings constructed there are now being used for horse-racing purposes."

Then down in Florida there was the W. P. A.-built Marianna golf course. The report stated that "the Marianna Country Club Association sold memberships to '35 of the best and most prominent people in the section' at $100 each with the idea in mind that these members would be entitled to life membership in the club when it took over the operation of the golf course."

Still another Florida item read: "Notwithstanding there were over 250 certified relief clients awaiting assignment to W. P. A. in Gainesville, eighteen members of the University of Florida football squad were carried in the payroll of W. P. A. during June, July and August, 1938, as certified relief clients under fictitious identification numbers. The State Administrator, his administrative assistant, the dean of the University of Florida, the coach of the university's football team, and the chairman of the State Welfare Board all conspired together to accomplish this illegal purpose."

Speaking of football, there is the case of Howard O. Hunter, Deputy Commissioner of W. P. A., whose travel allowances from the Government for the period from August 1, 1934 to January 31, 1940 totaled some $17,000. By the sheerest coincidence Mr. Hunter has "official business" in New Orleans each Thanksgiving Day and each New Year's Day when the big football games are being played in that city. Likewise he always has "official business" in Louisville, Kentucky, over Derby Day each year. At all events, the Government paid his train fare on these occasions.

So, you see, there is more to this business of W. P. A. relief than meets the naked eye.

JEREMIAH ANNOUNCES THE NEW COVENANT

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 31:31-37.
GOLDEN TEXT—I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God; and they shall be my people.—Jeremiah 31:33.

God's law written in the hearts of all men—surely that is the ultimate goal of all of our efforts, and therein we will find the solution of all of our problems. Jeremiah the prophet, in the midst of a despairing people with only captivity and sorrow before them because of their sinful rebellion against God, gives a prophetic foregleam of the day when all Israel and Judah should know God. Sin was to be forgiven, fellowship restored, and men over all the earth were to know God. Obviously, that prophecy is still future for Israel, but in the meantime God has permitted us to enter into the enjoyment of our covenant of grace.

1. The Old Covenant (vv. 31, 32).

The promise of a new covenant at once raises the question, "What was the old covenant?" We do not have space to make any complete study of it, but we note that while God did make a great covenant with Abraham, founding the nation of Israel (Gen. 17:1-14), the reference by Jeremiah is evidently to the covenant with Moses (Exod. 20:23). We observe that it was:

1. National (v. 32). The old covenant was made with Israel only, and could bring blessing to the other nations of the earth only indirectly, as they might share the peace and prosperity which would have come to Israel had they been obedient to God. God was here dealing with a chosen nation for whom He had a specific plan and purpose.

2. Limited (v. 32). The blessing of the old covenant was limited not only in the sense that it was national, but also in that it was conditional. God's promise hinged on His word in Exodus 19:5: "Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people." In other words, the fulfillment of this covenant was dependent on the faithfulness of the people. We know that they failed.

3. Broken by Israel (v. 32). God was like "an husband" (v. 32) unto Israel. He was patient, tender, forgiving, always trying to restore them to Himself. He used His great power on their behalf as He "looked them by the hand," and yet we read "my covenant they broke" (v. 32). Human failure in spite of God's promise and goodness, that is the history of man under law. Now, however, we turn to the new covenant of grace.

II. The New Covenant (vv. 33-37).

Jeremiah looked forward to the day when there was to be a covenant that is:

1. Personal (v. 33). The reference here is not to a law written in a book, which may be neglected or forgotten, or broken because there is no power in man to keep it. This new law is to be written in the hearts of men. It is personal—not something which he shares as a member of a great nation.

2. Universal (v. 34). From the least to the greatest, every man shall know God. That promise awaits its future complete fulfillment to Israel (and remember that God has not forgotten His people). Even now, however, we have the spiritual fulfillment of the promise in the Church. It is true now that, regardless of nationality, education, wealth, or position, the grace of God is made manifest in the hearts of men and women everywhere.

3. Assured by God (vv. 35-37). The old covenant of law failed, for it hinged upon the faithfulness of undependable man—"If ye will" (Exod. 10:5). But the new covenant of grace rests upon the "I will" of God (v. 34; see also Heb. 8:10-12). This is indeed "a better covenant, which was established upon better promises" (Heb. 8:6). It is an "everlasting covenant" (Heb. 13:20).

Be Satisfied

I say to thee, be thou satisfied. It is recorded of the hares that with a general consent they went to drown themselves, out of a feeling of their misery; but when they saw a company of frogs more fearful than they were, they began to take courage and comfort again. Compare thine estate with others.—Robert Burton.

Medieval Mummers

Mummers were bands of men and women in medieval times who during periods of public festivity, particularly at Christmas, dressed in fantastic clothes and wearing masks, or disguised as animals, serenaded outside homes and in the public squares. The practice seems to have been a survival of the Roman custom of masquerading during the Saturnalian orgies. Mumming led to such outrages in England in the Sixteenth century that Henry VIII issued a proclamation declaring the wearing of a mask or disguise a misdemeanor.

When, in 1899, he returned to China after a visit to the United States, he received the order of the Double Dragon, a distinction seldom conferred upon any one not a member of the royal family.

Cleanliness in Auto

Dirt allowed to collect on the floor of the driving compartment of a car may prove a danger. When the cowl ventilator is opened, the entering breezes will cause the dirt and dust to be blown about and a speck lighting in the driver's eye has been known to cause loss of control of the car. Cleanliness pays.

THE FORD WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

The Ford Motor Company was founded by a working-man for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

The Ford Motor Company was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day—also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

The Ford Motor Company employs men without regard to race, creed or color. It is common knowledge that working conditions in the Ford shops are the best that science and constant care can make them. A square deal, a just wage and stabilized employment for a large proportion of our employees—and as fully stabilized for all as conditions will permit—enable our men to retain their personal independence.

In consequence of these policies the Ford Motor Company has one of the finest bodies of employees in the world. The larger proportion are mature men of long service with the Company—sober, decent family men. Hundreds of them have been with the Company for more than 25 years—thousands for more than 15 years. Their health record, home ownership and citizenship records are good.

All this is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. Materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the motoring world as "Ford's way of doing business."

Ford Motor Company was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family—quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family—for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

It is the policy of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in

A 300 per cent increase in the built-in value of the Ford car and a 75 per cent reduction in its price.

"The Four Swing Kings" are playing for dancing every Saturday night at Ireland's Lone Oak Inn on highway 59 at Petite Lake. Meals are served at the Inn.

"Come and bring your friends," reads the announcement of Howard Smith, who will hold the season's opening of the ever popular Slide Inn at Channel lake this Saturday night. Smith's is one of the oldest and best known resorts in the lake country. In summer the fine bathing beach there attracts thousands.

A 16-inch crappie weighing two and one-fourth pounds was caught by Bob Hardman near his place in Bluff Lake Wednesday evening. Bob used a small single spinner and an inexpensive artificial lure to capture the fish, which he brought to Antioch Thursday noon. He plans to have the weight and measure officially recorded, preparatory to entering it in one of the national fishermen's contests. A national prize-winning crappie was caught a year or two ago in Long lake, and other prize crappie have also been caught in the lakes region recently.

Scotty's Syncopators with a special colored floor show and continuous entertainment will feature the opening of Maple Inn on Decoration day, May 30, Manager Joe Fox announces. Chinese and American foods at their best will be served.

Louis Landrock will serve Turkey lunch and there will be good music for dancing at his spring opening to be held at his Inn on the West side of Channel Lake on this Saturday evening, May 25.

Favors, novelties, dancing, turkey and fried chicken will be featured at the season opening of Haling's resort on Grass Lake this Saturday night, May 25. Charlie Haling reports excellent fishing in the Grass lake channels.

Charlie Holmes says: "They're really picking some big ones out of the waters around here this spring." Charlie was talking about the channels at Indian Point where he has his "Outing Club," and which has been a popular fishing grounds for years.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Holzrichter, proprietors of the Old Orchard Inn on Highway 21 held their season's opening Saturday. Visitors from Wheaton, Illinois, and Chicago were among the many guests who attended and to whom refreshments were served.

Burlington Announces July 4th Celebration

Burlington once more invites the public to attend its July Jamboree, sponsored as usual by the American Legion and the Knights of Columbus. This year the celebration will be held on the evenings of July 3, 4, 5 and 6. On July Fourth only will the attractions be open during the afternoon.

There will be the usual carnival attractions, games, rides, and fireworks, but this year there will be several new attractions. At Echo park where the Jamboree will be held, there will be a huge tent, housing a merchandise exhibit, at which dozens of Burlington merchants will show their wares—a veritable home show, which will be not only of interest, but of benefit to those who visit this free attraction.

Another new feature this year will be the Horse Show, which is being given by the Boots and Saddles Club as a benefit for the Burlington Memorial hospital. This show will feature some of the best horses in Wisconsin and Illinois, and will be held at the Antlers on the afternoon of July 6th. A large crowd is expected at the Horse Show on Saturday afternoon and many will stay over for the evening performance of the Jamboree.

There's been sort of an epidemic going around lately, if you might call it that, of spring fever. Don't know why that pleasant lassitude, that utterly enjoyable torpor that attends the first warm days should be called a fever, unless maybe on account of the "raging" by the guys who want work done that the guys who have spring fever should be doing . . . but soon spring fever catches up with them too, and then everybody goes fishing.

Reverberation of the milk strike—Eight milk trucks lumbering ponderously from Lake street into Main Tuesday noon drew an interested audience as the curious popped their heads up around the edges of screen doors up and down the business section or stepped boldly forth on the sidewalk . . . and withdrew in some disappointment as the trucks ambled peaceably away.

The Treasure Chest

"MAN AND THE MIRROR"
(By A. Channel)

"The Giver of All gave to the man a mirror, and said: 'Thou wilt see only what is reflected in it, turn it where you will.'"

"The man turned the mirror upward, and was joyful, seeing the stars. He turned it downward, and the mirror reflected the mud, stagnant things, foulness."

"And, because the man loved the stars, he turned it upward again. But the mirror was clouded with the black breath of sin—and reflected nothing."

"When the man could not see the stars, though he held his mirror upward, he was filled with great agony, and cried out, saying:

"Oh woe is me! Woe is me! The stars are dead! The stars are dead!"

He rent his garments, and his tears were of blood.

Then the Giver of All came to the man and said: "Foolish one, cry not that the stars are dead. CLEAN THY MIRROR!"

Ruth LePrade.

The mirror which the "Giver of All" has given to man his heart. It is a priceless gift which should be carefully tended; turned always upward to that which is shining and beautiful, wiped clean of the dust of avarice, selfishness, worldly attachments and all those things which cause it to reflect but darkly, and guarded against the ugly cracks of envy, hate, lust, lest it lose its power of truth and re-fleet only distorted images—the graves of the stars.

And just as a mirror in its formation, is subjected to the intense heat of a fiery furnace and other processes of purification to reach perfection, so is man subjected to the fire of tests in his daily living. Just as alloyed gold, subjected to the fire, portrays its baseness, so tests to weak souls are calamities and stumbling blocks. But the spiritually awakened soul makes of tests "stepping stones" to his future development and his mirror reflects, ever more clearly, the beauty of the heavens.

Grayslake Sports Arena Will Open Season Fri., June 7

Spring is finally here, and judging from the avalanche of inquiries that have been snowing Al "Peg" Behning, veteran local sportsman and operator of Peg's Open-Air Arena, under these past several days, the fancies of hundreds of Lake county sport lovers are lightly turning to thoughts of the 1940 professional wrestling season.

Far be it from genial Peg Behning to keep the opening of the current season a secret, especially when the cash customers want to know. So he's decided to "confide" in the press.

Shush! Don't tell a soul. The initial card of the season (it's the seventh consecutive season for wrestling in the county in case you haven't kept track) will be presented in the Grayslake outdoor home of hard knocks on Friday night, June 7.

And here's a scoop in the way of sport news . . . Peg declares that none other than Bronko Nagurski, mighty ruler of the wrestling world and the greatest football fullback that ever lived, is right at this very moment seriously considering an offer (at a fancy price) to wrestle in the headline attraction of the season's opening extravaganza.

AMUSEMENTS

"Lillian Russell" Returns

Continuing its new policy of not one but two feature hits on each change of program the Kenosha theatre will play two outstanding hits Wed. Thur., Friday and Saturday, May 22 to 25 which include "My Favorite Wife" with Irene Dunne, Cary Grant and "Tear Gas Squad" with Dennis Morgan, Gloria Dickson and John Payne. Starting May 26 for three days the Kenosha will show another big double feature attraction. The two features are "Lillian Russell" with Alice Faye, Don Ameche, Henry Fonda, Edward Arnold and "I was an Adventuress" with Zorian and Richard Greene.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Farnham F. Dudgeon

President Asks Billion Dollars For National Defense Program; Nazis Smash at Maginot Line

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union

The above map graphically reveals how close German bombing raids are to England's coast should the Nazi war machine continue to hold The Hague, capital of the Netherlands. As indicated, it is only 125 miles from this point to Harwich, England, and London is only 100 miles southwest of Harwich. Lower arrow points to Sedan, where Germans launched their first attack on France's famed Maginot line.

THE WAR: On Schedule

Since the outbreak of war last year, the prediction that with the coming of spring fighting would "open up," has been on the lips of observers everywhere. As Adolf Hitler's military machine thrust itself across The Netherlands, into Belgium and France, these predictions were at last coming true. For the world was witnessing what was hailed as "the greatest battle in history."

As in 1914 the German forces were making the most impressive showing in the first few days of the fighting. This time fortifications are believed to be stronger and less open to attack but the Nazi army and air force has developed offensive war to the point where no defense appears to be impregnable.

In The Netherlands, the Dutch army was ordered to cease firing, thus ending resistance to Germany's swarms of bombing planes and motorized troops.

Scope

This intensive fighting along the 200-mile front from the North sea to Saarbruecken was of utmost importance to the allies and Germany alike. This was indicated by the staggering amount of force each side whipped into the fray. Some experts claimed that this first great battle might be the most decisive of the war. It appeared that Adolf Hitler, firmly believing that "the Hour" had come, or forced through Germany's internal situation, had decided to stake all in one gigantic gamble.

As thousands of Nazi planes rained bombs upon military objectives and communication lines, England's royal air force flung back the challenge by losing ten after ten of high explosives in areas near important munitions plants along the Rhine and upon large German troop concentrations.

Objectives

What the aims of the German high command in the great land offensive actually are, of course remain a closely guarded military secret. But in general it appeared that with The Netherlands at their mercy and with key airports in that country available to the Nazi air force, intensive bombing of the British Isles was an ever-present threat.

QUOTATIONS

... on the war

Robert Ley, Nazi Labor Front leader, speaking of Adolf Hitler said that he is waging war, "in God-given natural mission" to "bring Europe and the world to reason and thereby make Europe and the world happy."

Viscount Gort, commander of the British expeditionary forces in France, "We are now on the eve of one of the great moments in the history of our empire. The struggle will be hard and long but we can be confident of final victory."

Paul Van Zeeland, former Belgian premier, speaking in Des Moines, Iowa, said the small nations of Europe hope "that the might of the United States will sooner or later be felt in favor of right."

Sen. Arthur Capper (R., Kan.) while discussing possibility of war developments shutting off U. S. access to staple stocks such as rubber and tin from the Dutch East Indies, stated that "we would be better off if we were getting our rubber from Brazil..." He urged using U. S. capital to develop the rubber industry in South America.

Immediate objective in France, of course, would be to break through the Maginot line and render these fortifications useless to the defenders. This is a major undertaking judging from the claims made for the defensive strength of these defenses, but word has come through that in the Sedan sector, 146 miles northeast of Paris, the German army engaged in a terrific bid for a definite foothold.

PREPAREDNESS: Speed Up

Appearing before a joint session of congress, President Roosevelt outlined a plan asking for an immediate appropriation of $396,000,000 for building up the nation's army, navy and air forces to protect the United States from any foreign invader. He also asked for authorization of future appropriations, totaling $280,000,000, bringing his entire request to over a billion dollars. This sum is in addition to regular military funds for the next fiscal year. Particular emphasis was placed upon a plea to strengthen U. S. air power quickly.

GEN. JOHN PERSHING

Did he like the President's talk?

Pointing out that the United States navy was second to none and that the army was at the greatest peace-time strength in history, he urged that production of airplanes and the training of pilots be speeded up to provide the needed force in this division of military defense. While war plane production has been increased from about 6,000 to over 12,000 per year, the President asked for an annual output of 50,000 each year.

All this must have sounded good to 79-year-old General John Pershing, A. E. F. commander in the last world war, who two days earlier in a rare public statement had said, "Preparedness is as necessary today as it was when war was declared in 1917, and we find ourselves in the same condition..." every energy in this country should be devoted to the idea of putting the United States in a condition of thorough preparedness against the possibility of war.

The galleries were packed and the atmosphere in the house chamber tense as the President, speaking slowly and carefully, told how the changing methods of warfare were rapidly making the isolated position of the United States less and less of a factor in national defense. He cited air line distances between U. S. shores and foreign owned possessions and went on to point out that it is the air phase of military preparedness that must receive the special attention of the United States.

TREND

... How the wind is blowing
NYLON—Heralded for several months as the answer to millady's plea for a superior stocking, hose made of Nylon, a synthetic fabric developed by DuPont chemists, went on sale throughout the country. Nylon, a tough yet sheer product, is spun from air, water and coal.

POLITICS—In Atlantic City, supporters of a woman candidate for city commissioner, armed themselves with 200 candle cameras in efforts to keep "repeat-ing" voters from the polls. "Every person" whose right to vote was in doubt was due for a snapshot and subsequent check-up.

BUILDING—In the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains, residential building contracts, last month, were highest since 1929. Eighty-eight per cent of the total $135,420,000 in contracts so awarded, was in private ownership construction as distinct from projects financed from public funds.

BUSINESS:

Confusion

"When business is good with us, it indicates an upswing in business conditions throughout the country," so said none other than Postmaster General James A. Farley as he announced that postal revenues reached an all-time high at the close of the last fiscal year. He also ventured the prediction that the current year would see an even larger increase in postal returns. In such increased revenue he observed a general improvement in business conditions.

For some time business analysts have been in accord with Mr. Farley in his thought that business was fairly good and getting better. Now the pattern of war is beginning to stamp itself in the industrial and agricultural fields and these impressions are sure to be felt.

Foreign markets for farm goods will probably be lost for the time being at least, but there will be a shift in the demand for manufactured goods from the warring nations. In particular the allies will no doubt be forced to speed up their purchases of war supplies, mainly fighting planes and equipment.

Whether the ultimate result will be a loss or gain for industry in this country is still uncertain. One thing was certain, however, confusion was the byword on the stock market. Up went some stocks, down went others.

Best guess was that the war would tend to accelerate U. S. trade with our neighbors in the Western hemisphere. And it demands for large U. S. home-defense supplies materialize, war equipment manufacturing firms should register neat gains.

POLITICS:

Inside Track

For a long time New Dealers have been claiming that their champion, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, could have the Democratic nomination for the presidency for the third time if he wanted it. Fact now is that with 499 delegates solidly pledged for him and with New York's 94, practically his for the asking, he will have enough votes to be nominated on the first ballot come convention time.

And the third term tide was rising with the war. Many Washington politicians have felt for months that the President's decision to become a candidate hinged largely upon the development of Europe's conflict. With the outbreak of the "big battle" it appeared to them that he would decide to make the race. Other observers felt he would withhold accepting or rejecting the nomination until it has actually been tendered.

Cordell Hull, secretary of state, appears to have the inside track for the nomination if President Roosevelt refuses it. Montana's Sen. Burton K. Wheeler seems to be running second only to Mr. Hull in the Democratic "if-he-doesn't-want-it" club.

MISCELLANY:

Fire destroyed $1,500,000 in war goods stored in the National Guard arsenal at Montgomery, Ala. An investigation was ordered as Adj. Gen. Ben. M. Smith reported he saw flames break out at the front and near the back of the building at about the same time.

Back to the United States from the Antarctic came Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd. He said he was back because he had been ordered to return, being under navy orders. His expedition has already charted about 900 miles of unknown coastline in Little America, according to Byrd.

"Daughters of the American Depression," some several hundred strong, assembled in Washington for a conference on unemployment. Claiming to be a cross section of 3,000,000 unemployed women of America, they planned public meetings and hoped to obtain restoration of a last year's WPA wage reduction for women workers.

A contract for continuing Italy's exhibit in the New York World's fair was signed with the provision that "if future international events render it advisable" the exhibit may be withdrawn.

Swingtime - 1926

The editor of the River Falls Journal writes - "We stopped and took a peep into the dance hall the other night and were fully convinced that some of the best wrestling matches the world has ever known have not been nationally advertised. Some record-breaking hoop-skirt artists were present, with hair oil running down their spinal columns and their hair plastered back over a cranium that had nothing in it but a burning desire to spar with the 'charleston' or 'flea hop'." Some of the "shicks" bent over their partners at an angle that would make the Hunchback of Notre Dame look as straight as a telephone pole. Others grasped their "pit" girls in a vice-like grip, while some held them on the shins. The music resembled a 1913 Ford running through a galvanized corrugated culvert.

Wouldn't it be tragic if you missed it!

JUST suppose that down the street a dealer had an automobile so close to your heart's desire that it might have been made to your own specifications.

Wouldn't it be tragic if you passed up that honey - just because you didn't inquire what the prices actually were?

Here and there that's happening, we fear. Happening because people who want Buicks aren't getting the actual facts.

Maybe you didn't know that there are five 1940 Buicks at five different price ranges.

That every one of these has a big, husky, straight-eight engine electrically balanced after assembly by Buick's own exclusive process.

That soft, stout coil springs are found on every one - that every one has recoil-mounted Knee-Action, finger-slick transmission, bona fide Buick styling - features literally counted by the dozen.

Sales are hitting new highs - so Buick dealers are ready to make swell deals.

"Best buy's Buick!"

Antioch Library Makes Gift of Duplicate Books

A box of books, consisting mainly of duplicates of volumes on the shelves, has been turned over by Antioch Township Library to the Legion Auxiliary, which will in turn present them to the Veteran's hospital.

"We also have other books available which would be suitable for CCC camps and on request will be turned over to them or to some other responsible organization," Miss Mary Stanley, librarian, states.

"Some of them are badly worn but still usable, and instead of destroying them we would like to place them where they may still be of some use before being disposed of, although they are no longer suitable for library purposes," she adds.
